

Municipal and Expropriation Lawyer.

Join a dynamic and professional team whose mission is to listen to, advise, and help its clients. Located in downtown Montréal, our law firm offers a friendly work environment focused on human capital and high-quality services.

Profile.

De Grandpré Chait is looking for a lawyer with two (2) to six (6) years' experience in municipal law, expropriation and environment, or in a related field. The incumbent will be involved in major cases in the fields of real estate development, urban planning, expropriation, municipal taxation, the environment and, more generally, administrative and public law. He/she will also have to manage his/her own files and assist the partners in various complex cases.

Responsibilities.

Under the supervision of partners in the sector, the incumbent will undertake the following responsibilities, among others:

- Act in major cases, including several municipal law litigation cases.
- Draft various legal procedures and make representations before the courts.
- Manage certain files independently, while working in collaboration with other team members.
- Maintain a legal watch to keep abreast of legislative and regulatory changes.
- Draft legal opinions and agreements relating to real estate development.
- Collaborate with clients, analyze files and develop consequent strategies.

Required Education and Experience.

- Hold a bachelor's degree in law and be a member in good standing of the Quebec Bar.
- Two (2) to six (6) years of professional experience as a lawyer in municipal law, expropriation, environment and/or real estate litigation.
- Litigation and advocacy experience.
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in French and English (for clients outside the Province of Quebec).
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office 365 suite.

Required Skills.

- Excellent analytical, writing and communication skills.
- Uncompromising attention to detail and professional ethics.
- Ability to work independently or as part of a team, in a professional environment.
- Demonstrate initiative and resourcefulness.
- Business acumen and customer focus.
